Dear Parents

Mrs Sherratt has asked us to pass on her thanks for all your best wishes during her absence from work. She is beginning to feel much better but is still unable to return to work. We do miss her and hope that we will see her very soon after half term.

I am sure that everyone is sorry to hear that next Friday, 23rd October will be Mrs Wilkes' last day at Muxton Primary School. Aileen has worked at Muxton for 9 years and has been a very committed and enthusiastic member of our School including her role on the governing body and supporting the Friends. Whilst I know Aileen has many happy memories of her time at Muxton, she is also very excited about her new adventure she and her family are embarking on. Aileen is leaving to manage and develop a country pub in Lincolnshire. Those of you who know Aileen will appreciate that she is fulfilling a long term dream to join together her career and leisure interests. I know that you would want to share in our very best wishes to Aileen and her family as well as a very big thank you for everything she has done. She has promised to keep in touch and tell us about her adventures.

We are grateful to Rose Russell and Judy Bailey who are helping us in the transitional period during Mrs Sherratt's illness and the new Financial Support Administrator who will be in place shortly after half term. Thank you for your continued support and patience.

KS1 Morning Routine

Now that the children are well established with their new classrooms, it's time that children in KS1 classes and above should be given more independence when coming into school. How about leaving your child at the school entrance, or even the main gate - giving them the responsibility of organising their bags and coats themselves. Of course, if there is something you need to speak to the teacher about, you're welcome into the classroom - and of course we are very happy to see you after school. But, first thing in the morning, we would prefer that you allowed the children that bit more independence, leaving the classrooms free for a quiet start to the day.

Doors open at 8.45am and registration is at 9.00 o'clock, during this 15 minute session there are a number of important activities that the children are encouraged to do to organise themselves and develop independence. These activities such as changing reading books, spelling activities, journal/diary writing are an important part of the preparation for the school day. Thank you for your support in encouraging your child/children with their learning and enjoyment at school.

KS1 Sharing Time

To compliment our work in PSHE on feelings, we would like the children to bring in something that makes them feel happy to share in their class sessions next week. Please prepare to talk about why it makes you feel that way.
